TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

RE: Bovine growth hormones (BGH) / recombinant bovine somatotrophin (rbST)

The Australian Dairy Industry is vigilant in its concern for the integrity of milk production. The use of steroidal hormones such as oestrogen, progesterone and testosterone for growth promotion is not permitted in dairy farming in Australia. This hormone (rbST) is also not permitted for use in Australia and New Zealand.

To the best of our knowledge and supplier information, the dairy products manufactured by Ballantyne Foods are not derived from milk sources where farmers have used hormones to increase yield.

Yours sincerely,

BALLANTYNE FOODS PTY LTD
